SOMMELIER'S BIN

- $75 -

As we update our wine list and clean up our cellar, we always find "orphaned bottles" of odds and ends GREAT wine. Rather than keeping them all to ourselves we would rather pass on the value to you, our guest, by creating a "grab bag" called the "Sommelier's Bin."

Each wine (all red) from the Bin is $75, which reflects an up to fifty percent reduction from the wine's former list price. The catch? The wine will remain a "mystery" until presented, and cherry-picking from the Bin is not allowed. As an indication of the level of caliber of the Bin wines here are a few examples of the goodies we found recently: Freemark Abbey Bousche, Silver Oak, and Hess Collection.

QUALITY WINE

- $99 -

When we opened Quality Meats (QM) in 2006 we launched with a vision to feature our own private label red wine to complement our menu. That commitment led to the creation of our very own "Quality Wine."

The 2006 Quality Wine, our sophomore cuvée, is a claret-style blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc, crafted by Napa upstart Cliff Lede Winery. For this project Winemaker Michelle Edwards sourced the choicest grapes from their own classic rock-themed vineyard plots, which are bestowed with such iconic names as "Dark Side of The Moon" and "Light My Fire." A truly stunning red that will rock your world

VERTICALS - CALIFORNIAN CABERNET

ARAUJO

Araujo Estate's claim to fame is their legendary Eisele Vineyard. Since the late 1960's, wine icons such as Paul Draper (Ridge), Robert Mondavi, and Joseph Phelps had made great Cabernet from this prestigious vineyard. The property is now owned by Bart and Daphne Araujo, with the legendary Michel Rolland as their wine consultant.

LADIES FIRST

The wine industry has been run solely by men for many, many centuries. Only in recent years have we seen an emergence of women in the wine cellar. Of 103 master sommeliers in North America, 14 are women and all live in the United States. The number of female winemakers grows daily, and many women have certainly made a name for themselves within the industry.

At Quality Meats we take pride in showcasing the talents of these remarkable women in our industry. We salute their diligence and commitment to continuing age-old traditions as well as forging new paths for future winemakers to follow. The wine industry has dubbed 2010 as "The Year of the Woman" Here's to putting our Ladies First

Quality Wine 2006 Red Blend Napa 99
Winemaker: Michelle Edwards

In our search for the perfect winery to produce our sophomore cuvee of Quality Wine, we came across the team at Cliff Lede. We wanted to ensure that a wine with our name on it would indeed be of great Quality. Michelle Edwards carefully handcrafted this blend for us, using only the best fruit of the Stags Leap District. With each vineyard block named after a classic rock tune (rather than the typical 1,2,3 nomenclature), we were guaranteed a Quality Wine that rocks!

Domaine Serene 2006 Pinot Noir, Evanstad Reserve Willamette Valley 128
Winemaker: M. Eleni Papadakis

The Old World meets the New World in Eleni Papadakis's Oregonian Pinot Noirs. Taking advantage of the similarity in climate between Burgundy and Oregon, Eleni's wines are a true interpretation of the climate and earth. To say that working with the Pinot Noir grape is a challenge is an understatement, as pinot tends to be finicky and fickle. But done right, Pinot Noir can be seductive and sexy, as evidenced in Ms. Papadakis's Evanstad Reserve.

Chateau St. Jean 2006 "Cinq Cepages" Sonoma 135
Winemaker: Margo van Staaveren

Talk about staying power... 2010 will mark Margo van Staaveren's 31st harvest at Chateau St. Jean. In its 37 years, Chateau St. Jean has had only four winemakers. The cornerstone of Margo's winemaking philosophy lies in the art of blending- something that she's exhibited quite skillfully in Cinq Cepages, the "Five Varieties", a Bordeaux Blend that showcases Sonoma County's best fruit.

Casa Lapostolle 2005 "Cuvée Alexandre - Las Kuras Vineyards" Syrah Chile 94
Founder: Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle

Madame Lapostolle is the great granddaughter of Alexandre Marnier Lapostolle, founder of Grand Marnier, the famed French liquor. A worldly doyenne, Mme. Lapostolle was born in France and resides in Switzerland, with her latest venture being Chilean. We are proud to announce our partnership with the Lapostolle Family for our 2008 vintage of Quality Wine, blended by winemaker Michel Rolland, with 90% Apalta juice.

Merry Edwards 2006 Pinot Noir Russian River Valley 135
Winemaker: Merry Edwards

A shrewd balance of intellect and intuition has kept Merry Edwards in the game for over three decades. In her first years in the industry, Merry encountered repeated gender discrimination. Her hard work, perseverance and resulting successes paved the way for future generations of women to take charge in the cellar. Her wines reflect her personal style: robust yet refined and elegant. In some fields, the glass ceiling no longer exists!

Corison 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon Napa 169
Winemaker: Cathy Corison

Grace under pressure. Cathy Corison has trained her gnarly old vines to produce scant yields which result in wines of uncommon concentration and refinement. She believes her vines, like people, need stress to make them work harder with what they have. Tenacity, determination and passion have driven Cathy to produce consistent and impeccably balanced wines, organically, nonetheless, from Napa's prized Rutherford Benchland.

Domain Drouhin 2007 Pinot Noir Willamette Valley 91
Winemaker: Veronique Drouhin-Boss

Representing the fourth generation of winemakers from the venerable Drouhin family of Burgundy, Veronique Drouhin-Boss spearheaded their expansion into Oregon. Taking advantage of Oregon's Burgundian climate, Veronique has consistently produced terroir-driven wines, capturing the essence of what nature has offered in her vineyards. By the way, it's Will-AM-ette, damnit!

La Sirena 2005 Syrah Santa Ynez 109
Winemaker: Heidi Barrett

Dalle Valle, Showket, Revana, Diamond Creek... these vineyards have had the privilege of Heidi Barrett's magic touch. Having produced critically acclaimed wines for some of the biggest names in the Napa Valley, Heidi Barrett has achieved "cult status" in the industry. Her current titles include "The First Lady of Wine" by Robert Parker, Jr. and "The Wine Diva of Napa Valley" by Time Magazine.
